AUBURN DEFEATS MARION, 76 TO 0

Laughman Stars for Auburn, With Hairston and Wren Close Seconds—DuCote Does Some Fine Footwork

Special Wire from Selma, Oct. 1.

With a nice day and both teams hot on edge, Auburn played Marion today in Auburn's first game of the season and unmercifully flopped them 76-0. Notwithstanding the fact that the hay hadn't been cut off the field this season, there was no fumbling on Auburn's side, and some few goals were even kicked.

A special wire into Langdon Hall gave the students an opportunity to keep right up with the game, and much interest was evidenced by them, which shows that the Spirit of Old Auburn is growing daily.

Some of this year's men have not yet seen a football game, and they were of course even more interested than the others in trying to understand the terms used, but no doubt after the game here on the 9th with the University of Florida, they will be able to understand better and the spirit will grow then even more than it has already.

Laughman made some pretty runs for Auburn, and Wren made some nice gains. The Human Shoe-string just couldn't fail to squirm through every time he went into play and he ended the game with three touchdowns to his credit.

Laughman's 65-yard run around right end was another pretty incident of the game, and DuCote did himself justice with his interference and nice toe work.

Lucy's 80-yard run from the kick-off, with only 45 seconds to play, and the fact that he scored the first touchdown for the season should make him feel quite happy. He certainly played a pretty game.

The whole team, although without the finished results of a long period of practice, certainly shows great promise, and we look for-

VIRGINIA DOWNS YALE

Yale football stock took an unexpected drop Saturday, when the University of Virginia's clean and well-balanced eleven won a 10 to 0 victory. Virginia did not score until the final quarter, when the Yale backfield fumbled a lateral pass and Virginia fell on the ball for a touchdown. A few minutes later Thurman kicked a field goal. Yale threatened to score only once and that was in the first quarter, but Virginia braced and Yale tried for a field goal, but missed. Yale was outplayed offensively and defensively.

TECH DEFEATS MERCER

Tech opened their football season Saturday by defeating Mercer 52 to 0. Although Tech had very little trouble in winning, Mercer showed up a good deal better than any one suspected them capable of doing.

Neither team resorted to any fancy or trick stuff, both being contented with line bucking mixed in with an occasional end run.

ALABAMA, 44; HOWARD, 0

Alabama surprised Howard Saturday by winning by such a large score. Howard had hoped to hold them to three touchdowns, but Alabama's offensive was too strong. Forward passes contributed to two touchdowns. Both teams were guilty of frequently fumbling, one of which gave Alabama a touchdown.

HONOR COMMITTEE INSTALLED

Ceremony Very Impressive

The most serious ceremony so far held in Langdon Hall was the installation of the Honor Committee last Monday morning.

Doctor Messick, Coach Donahue and Doctor Petrie made short talks with regard to its support by the students and the faculty.

The new men were impressed with the solemnity of the occasion by the adequate words of Coach Donahue.

Presidents of the various classes then pledged the support of each class to the constitution and by-laws of that organization. Liddell, in representing the Senior class, showed from past references that his class had always supported the committee. His desire was that his class should continue to follow that path that they had marked out, so setting a record in these few

DR. HALL LECTURES TO STUDENTS

A Large Crowd Attend.

At a well attended meeting last Tuesday night, Dr. W. S. Hall, of Northwestern University, delivered a talk along medical lines to the students.

Dr. Hall is professor of Physiology in the Medical Department of the University and is well known in this country and Canada. This is his second visit to us, having lectured here year before last, as the present Juniors and Seniors will remember. He is traveling under the auspices of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. and, during the past year, has addressed more than forty thousand students in the United States and Canada.

Dr. Hall also gave a short talk Wednesday morning in Langdon Hall on "Social Ethics and College Life."

"IF" (With Apologies)

If you can but keep cool when the professors
Their heads are losing and blame falls on you;
When Freshies, Seniors, Sophs, and other classmates
Seem all to say, "You poor old sap-head, you."

If you can conquer Analyt. and work it,
Plot out your graph and tackle plenty more,
Can get your Physics, make "Bull" think you are right,
Scrape up a "three" and never, never "four."

If you can get a "boat" and "ride a sarge,"
Learn when to laugh, the instant to applaud,
Fool Doctor Charlie, make "Doc" sign a slip,
And keep it from the world that you're a fraud.

If you can memorize your English verse,
Can ride a "jack" and never let "Doc" know,
Pay up your debts and to the movies go,
Then if your note-book's ever by your side,
To take down all of the "important thing,"
Put on your best clothes, take down your cane,
Get out your dough and spend it like a king.

If you can go to crafty, cunning Petrie,
And make him see that your excuse is good,
Drill like a soldier, shine in tactics, too,
Stand up for honor as you always should.

If you can get 'em "bulled" and keep 'em guessing,
And make 'em think your middle name is "Brain,"
While all the time you're working like the dickens
And grabbing all you can that's to your gain.

And if you'll play this game at Auburn,
Make grand-stand plays of all that comes your way,
Or, if you're beat, just grin at it and bear it,
Your name has come to Auburn—come to stay.

If you will always grab the fame and glory,
And never let a fellow call your hand,
Then the faculty and boys'll always cheer you,
And you will ever be the leader of the "band."

COMMISSION AWARDED TO SENIOR OFFICERS

Last Saturday morning, after a talk by Dr. Thach charging each officer of the Senior class in the performance of his duty, the commissioned officers were given certificates of their rank. These certificates are given to officers, reposing special trust and confidence in their loyalty, fidelity and ability. The commission, which is continued during the faithful performance of duty, is given under the signature of the Commandant of Cadets, the President of the college, and the seal of the institution.

AUBURN, ALA., OCT. 8, 1915.

The Orange and Blue, as the official organ of the student body of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, wishes to say a few words in regard to the hazing which it has been rumored has been going on in this institution for the last few weeks. In 1909, at a meeting of the faculty and a committee of students, it was determined to eradicate this custom from this school. Since that time very little hazing and that in mild form has existed. This year, however, several cases are reported as having occurred. This paper takes a strong stand in regard to this question. Hazing must and will be stopped from now on. The Senior class is opposed to it. In the Senior class is vested the executive power of the school, backed, of course, by the president, faculty and state. It is, therefore, up to this class to do all it can in stopping it, and we can rest assured it will do its best.

The new men themselves can help us in this movement by always remembering that they are new men and by being courteous and respectful to all old men. Let them remember that all of us were once like them and that some day they expect to be like us. Let them never talk back or be impudent to an upper-class man and they will be respected and treated like they should be, like gentlemen. We are all here for the same purpose, to get a good college education, that we may, in the future, be a help to our fellowmen. If all students, as one, will co-operate with us, we will prove to our president, to our faculty, and to all interested in our institution that we are loyal to it and that we will always be ready to do that which will tend toward its uplift and welfare.

You can take civil and still be a gentleman.

When we find that our Debtors and our Creditors have equal mental abilities, then we would be in a model Utopia.

A SONNET

(After Wordsworth)

This beef is too much with us: late and soon.
Eating such stuff we waste our stomach's powers.
Little we see the college man devours;
We paid board in advance—a sordid boon!
This butter, which the cow that jumped the moon,
Denounced as ancient, over us still lowers:
These grits, that weak digestion overpowers—
For this, for everything, we are out of tune.
It moves us not.—Great God I'd rather be
As Fletcher, suckled in a cried new-born;
So might I, if such luck would come to me,
Have my digestion make me less forlorn,
Have sight of some old farm, hereto I'd flee,
And hear again that old-time dinner horn.

RUNNING THE PAPER

The managing editor wheeled his chair around and pushed a button in the wall. The person wanted entered.

"Here," said the editor, "are a number of directions from outsiders as to the best way to run a newspaper. See that they are carried out," and the office boy gathered them all into a large wastebasket and did so.

TRUTH ABOUT IT

Many a man who is credited with being wise enough to keep silent, is really growing deaf—but won't acknowledge it.

Having nothing to say does not keep some people from talking.

Life may be a grind, but grinding sharpens things.

TRIOLET

There's a rose in Marian's hair to-night,
And I never gave it to her!
'Tis a rose rich red, o'er a brow cream white,
That rose in her beautiful hair to-night,
And I feel (just how, I can't say quite)
What a crimson heart-ache har-binger
Is the rose in her golden hair to-night—
For I never gave it to her!

ANON.

Perhaps a rolling stone gathers no moss because it is not on the level.

RECIPROCITY.

"I would that thou wouldst call me Bean,"

I heard a love-lorn lover say;
"And then," I heard him whisper low,
"I'd call thee, sweetest, my Bou-quet."

N. I. W.

If her beauty intoxicates you, try the Keely cure.

Last Friday afternoon at the matinee the true Auburn spirit, we admit, was there in quality, but was sadly lacking in quantity. This may be due to afternoon classes, and we do not in the least advocate anything in preference to our class work. However, we feel sure that due to the backing of the Athletic Association by the faculty, that some arrangements could be made between the students and the professor in charge. These matinees are held for the benefit of the student body, and if not well attended, they may no longer exist. So let's all get together and when anything is done for our benefit, let us be the most ardent ones to show our appreciation by our support.

"Hitch your wagon to a star," but be sure that you pick out a star that won't soon be a meteor.

The team is getting in shape; the band is getting in shape; let's all get in shape; the big games are not so far off.

Money talks; witness the lady on the dollar. She also talks to the Orange and Blue.

It isn't always the winner who wears a winning smile.

The Honor System was adopted by the student body in mass during the spring of 1910.

When you roll a match across the floor do not write home that it was a mountain.

CLEMSON AND DAVIDSON TIE
In a hard fought game, in which both teams did consistent work, Davidson tied Clemson Saturday, 6-6. The defensive of both lines was strong and aggressive. Both teams were weak on interference.

U. OF S. C. BEATS NEWBERRY
The University of South Carolina opened its football season by defeating Newberry College 29 to 0. Nearly all of Carolina's scoring was done in the last two periods by means of skillfully executed forward passes.

CITADEL SURPRISES TARHEELS
The Citadel team sprang a surprise on the University of North Carolina Saturday, holding the Tarheels well and losing only by the score of 13 to 7.

The Cadets thrice held the Tarheels on the 2 yard line and took the ball on down.

AUBURN MAN'S SUCCESS

Mr. V. W. Lewis, an Auburn graduate of 1913, who is now General Livestock Agent for the Queen & Crescent Route, was in charge of a Special Development train from Meridian, Miss., to Cincinnati, O.

The train was composed of ten cars and an engine. The first car contained supplies for livestock, the second contained poultry and also showed the proper method of bedding cars for livestock shipment. The third car was a flat car with lime pulverizer, capable of crushing and pulverizing rock for concrete, macadam and fertilizing purposes.

The fourth car contained livestock from along the Queen & Crescent, namely: cattle, hogs, sheep, etc. The fifth was a flat car on which were exhibited many kinds of agricultural implements. Next was a car with agricultural products, fruits and vegetables. Seventh was an exhibit of mineral and marketing exhibits. The eighth car contained domestic science demonstrations. The ninth and tenth cars were living cars for attendants and Queen & Crescent representatives.

We congratulate Mr. Lewis on his great success and wish to thank him for showing, as many have shown before, that Auburn puts out men able to be men and able to turn out responsible work.

GAME BY PLAYS

First Quarter:
Auburn kicks off. DuCote kicks across the goal. The ball is brought out 20 yards and is Marion's ball on her 20 yard line. On the first play Marion fumbles and Fricke recovers. Prendy then goes over left tackle for 4 yards, DuCote over right tackle for 1 yard and Lucy romps through for the first touchdown of the season. Time, 3 minutes. The hay interfered with kicking the goal. Score, 6-0.

EXCHANGE NOTES

E. S. GATCHELL

The following exchanges have been received:

The College Reflector.
The Howard Crimson.
The Tar Heel.
The Virginia Tech.
The Davidsonian.
The Vanderbilt Hustler.
The Reveille.
The Holcad.
The Clemson Tiger.

V. P. I. defeated Roanoke College 26 to 0 on the campus last Saturday.—Virginia Tech.

The Senior class, which is customarily considered the most conservative of those connected with the University, showed most initiative this year by being the first to hold a smoker; and since they have found it so pleasant, they have decided to hold one every month.—Tar Heel.

Tulane opened the season Saturday with a 24 to 0 victory over St. Paul College. Superior weight of the New Orleans line-up was too much for the Covington lads.—Ex.

"The band will be 50 per cent better in discipline and ability this year than it was last year," according to Capt. C. H. Comfort.—The Reveille.

Buttons will be worn in the coat lapels of every Howard College student this session. The object in establishing the custom of wearing buttons is to distinguish Howard students and to stimulate greater loyalty among the alumni of the college.—Crimson.

The registration Thursday at University of North Carolina was 1,119.—Tar Heel.

Last Saturday the annual "Rat Parade" was held. Two hundred and twenty-eight lusty rats assembled in front of barracks in order to show off their varied and humorous make-ups to the old men and the visitors from Roanoke.—Virginia Tech.

Monday morning, Sept. 27, witnessed the beginning of the registration of students in all departments of Vanderbilt for the scholastic year of 1915-16. The enrollment this year promises to be about equal to that of last year.—Hustler.

The entering class this year is one of the largest that has ever entered M. A. C. The big increase in Freshmen is among the co-eds and we are more than glad to see this increase. However, the total enrollment will be at least one hundred more than that of last year.—Holcad.

Howard's baseball captain for 1916 is W. R. Griffin, of Cullman, Ala., a member of the Junior class, and for three years second baseman on the Howard team.—Crimson.

A Co-Ed Glee Club is to be organized at L. S. U., with Professor Stopher in charge.—Reveille.

The plans for the new gymnasium to be constructed soon at M. A. C. are nearly completed and the bids for the contract will be secured in the near future.—Holcad.

Organization of the "scrub" football team of Howard College will be perfected next week. A captain will be elected at the time of the organization.—Crimson.

Freshmen at M. A. C. must wear the brown caps on all occasions during the six week days, if on the campus.—Holcad.

"Howard should beat Tulane by two touchdowns when the two elevens meet at New Orleans November 13," was the prediction of Cecil Tisdale, for four years one of the best athletes on the Howard College campus and now a medical student at Tulane.—Crimson.

Following Lieutenant Rozelle's recommendation in 1914 that the regulation shoe as worn in the U. S. army be introduced and made a part of the L. S. U. cadet equipment, orders have been issued by the military department headquarters this fall that cadets will be required to possess themselves of the regulation shoes.—Reveille.

Engineering Notes

H. L. P. KING

Tuesday, Sept. 28, 1915.—The first meeting of the Engineering Society for the 1915-16 session was called to order tonight at 7:30 by Prof. W. W. Hill, the retiring chairman of the Council of the Engineering Society. Professor Hill read the constitution of the Society and then gave a brief talk on the purpose and prospects of the Society. During his talk Professor Hill explained that the Society was formed not only to promote general engineering interests, but as a means of bringing the professors and students into closer touch with one another.

Professor Hill then turned the meeting over to W. C. Payne, the retiring vice-president. In accordance with the custom of the society, a motion was put before the house that a nominating committee be named to nominate candidates for the offices of the society. This motion was carried, and Mr. Payne appointed M. V. Zimmerman, J. E. Key, and H. L. P. King as the committee. It was then suggested that this committee consider the nominations till the next meeting of the society, when the regular election of officers be held. This suggestion was adopted. The nominating committee is to nominate two candidates for each of the following offices:

The Council, to be composed of one faculty member, the chairman, chosen by the engineering faculty, and four members subject to student election. These members of the Council are to be one instructor above the rank of post-graduate, one post-graduate, one senior and one junior.

The officers of the society, consisting of a president, chosen from the post-graduate or senior class; two vice-presidents, one from the senior and one from the junior class; a secretary from the society

at large, and a treasurer who shall be an instructor.

The society is not bound to elect any of those nominated; the nominations are to be open after the committee has rendered its report.

It is to be hoped that the numerous other meetings held tonight kept many who would otherwise have come from attending the meeting. Others seem to be afraid of running into too much "High-Brow Stuff." While the society does intend dealing with engineering subjects, its members do not propose to introduce any uninteresting subject. Quite a number of "movie" programs have already been secured, and an enjoyable program for the whole year is practically assured.

The next meeting of the society will be held in the Engineering Auditorium at 7:30 p. m., Oct. 5th. It is up to the engineering students of Auburn to make the society come up to other Auburn standards and surpass any other such student organization in the South. Come to this meeting and let's get some Auburn spirit into the society and make this year the best ever in this as well as every other branch of Auburn activity.

Agricultural Notes

R. E. CAMMACK

At its regular meeting last Friday night, the Agricultural Club was attended by more than eighty men. Three men were on the program and each one delivered an interesting and instructive address. Mr. H. C. Appleton delivered the first address on "The Reasons for Attending an Agricultural College." Following Mr. Appleton, Mr. J. H. Campbell gave reasons for attending "The Agricultural Club." Mr. F. T. Wells delivered the last address on "The Outlook for Agricultural Students." Each man on the program did credit to himself and to the club.

Dr. Ross will address the club next Friday night at 7:30 and all agricultural students should be present at this meeting. The agricultural faculty will be there. Meetings last not more than one hour, giving plenty of time for the picture show. Meets promptly at 7:30. Come.

Wirt Literary Society

P. O. DAVIS

The members of the Wirt Society were called to order last Saturday night by President J. H. Campbell. A very interesting debate was held on the much discussed subject, "Resolved, That England was justifiable in declaring cotton contraband." Isbell, Emerson and Deal defended the affirmative, while Baker, Ard and Reed presented the negative and won the debate.

Interesting and instructive programs are arranged for every Saturday night. All men interested in this kind of work should get familiar with the club. It will do you good.

Our idea of a lucky man is one who can borrow enough money to pay his debts and have some left.

A MARINE VIEW.

A charming young woman, on her first tour abroad, met the captain of the steamship one morning while on the voyage from Genoa to Buenos Ayres. "We cross the Tropic of Cancer today," said the captain.

"Oh, indeed!" she cried, with enthusiasm, "then we shall see something at last!"

Dyspepsia and pessimism have a lot in common.

Organization of the "scrub" football team of Howard College will be perfected next week. A captain will be elected at the time of the organization.—Crimson.

Freshmen at M. A. C. must wear the brown caps on all occasions during the six week days, if on the campus.—Holcad.

"Howard should beat Tulane by two touchdowns when the two elevens meet at New Orleans November 13," was the prediction of Cecil Tisdale, for four years one of the best athletes on the Howard College campus and now a medical student at Tulane.—Crimson.

Following Lieutenant Rozelle's recommendation in 1914 that the regulation shoe as worn in the U. S. army be introduced and made a part of the L. S. U. cadet equipment, orders have been issued by the military department headquarters this fall that cadets will be required to possess themselves of the regulation shoes.—Reveille.

Engineering Notes

H. L. P. KING

Tuesday, Sept. 28, 1915.—The first meeting of the Engineering Society for the 1915-16 session was called to order tonight at 7:30 by Prof. W. W. Hill, the retiring chairman of the Council of the Engineering Society. Professor Hill read the constitution of the Society and then gave a brief talk on the purpose and prospects of the Society. During his talk Professor Hill explained that the Society was formed not only to promote general engineering interests, but as a means of bringing the professors and students into closer touch with one another.

Profesor Hill then turned the meeting over to W. C. Payne, the retiring vice-president. In accordance with the custom of the society, a motion was put before the house that a nominating committee be named to nominate candidates for the offices of the society. This motion was carried, and Mr. Payne appointed M. V. Zimmerman, J. E. Key, and H. L. P. King as the committee. It was then suggested that this committee consider the nominations till the next meeting of the society, when the regular election of officers be held. This suggestion was adopted. The nominating committee is to nominate two candidates for each of the following offices:

The Council, to be composed of one faculty member, the chairman, chosen by the engineering faculty, and four members subject to student election. These members of the Council are to be one instructor above the rank of post-graduate, one post-graduate, one senior and one junior.

The officers of the society, consisting of a president, chosen from the post-graduate or senior class; two vice-presidents, one from the senior and one from the junior class; a secretary from the society

at large, and a treasurer who shall be an instructor.

The society is not bound to elect any of those nominated; the nominations are to be open after the committee has rendered its report.

It is to be hoped that the numerous other meetings held tonight kept many who would otherwise have come from attending the meeting. Others seem to be afraid of running into too much "High-Brow Stuff." While the society does intend dealing with engineering subjects, its members do not propose to introduce any uninteresting subject. Quite a number of "movie" programs have already been secured, and an enjoyable program for the whole year is practically assured.

The next meeting of the society will be held in the Engineering Auditorium at 7:30 p. m., Oct. 5th. It is up to the engineering students of Auburn to make the society come up to other Auburn standards and surpass any other such student organization in the South. Come to this meeting and let's get some Auburn spirit into the society and make this year the best ever in this as well as every other branch of Auburn activity.

Agricultural Notes

R. E. CAMMACK

At its regular meeting last Friday night, the Agricultural Club was attended by more than eighty men. Three men were on the program and each one delivered an interesting and instructive address. Mr. H. C. Appleton delivered the first address on "The Reasons for Attending an Agricultural College." Following Mr. Appleton, Mr. J. H. Campbell gave reasons for attending "The Agricultural Club." Mr. F. T. Wells delivered the last address on "The Outlook for Agricultural Students." Each man on the program did credit to himself and to the club.

Dr. Ross will address the club next Friday night at 7:30 and all agricultural students should be present at this meeting. The agricultural faculty will be there. Meetings last not more than one hour, giving plenty of time for the picture show. Meets promptly at 7:30. Come.

Wirt Literary Society

P. O. DAVIS

The members of the Wirt Society were called to order last Saturday night by President J. H. Campbell. A very interesting debate was held on the much discussed subject, "Resolved, That England was justifiable in declaring cotton contraband." Isbell, Emerson and Deal defended the affirmative, while Baker, Ard and Reed presented the negative and won the debate.

Interesting and instructive programs are arranged for every Saturday night. All men interested in this kind of work should get familiar with the club. It will do you good.

Our idea of a lucky man is one who can borrow enough money to pay his debts and have some left.

A MARINE VIEW.

A charming young woman, on her first tour abroad, met the captain of the steamship one morning while on the voyage from Genoa to Buenos Ayres. "We cross the Tropic of Cancer today," said the captain.

"Oh, indeed!" she cried, with enthusiasm, "then we shall see something at last!"

Dyspepsia and pessimism have a lot in common.
